SURVEY OF TOURIST YEAR IN VIRGINIA

Richmond, Va., Oct. 27.- Cool summer weather conditions, coupled with fears created from three late seasonal hurricanes, resulted in reduced attendance at a number of Virginia tourist attractions, a survey by the State Chamber of Commerce showed today.

However, a majority of the outstanding attractions surveyed showed that attendance generally was better this year than it was in 1954. More than 30 attractions and activities were covered in the survey.

The survey showed that attendance increased from one to 100 per cent at various resorts and tourist activities, while the declines ran from one to 25 per cent.

The 100 per cent incrase over 1954 was registered at the Breaks of the Cumberlands, a bi-state park, which was opened for the first time this year.

In the places where attendance was up over last year, the attraction owners attributed the increase to more advertising and better publicity. A majority of the locations where business was off this year complained of the cool weather and the hurricanes of August and September.

As to tourist habits, the attraction owners were about equally divided. Some said that the Virginia visitors were spending more money and remaining for a longer period of time. Others held that the 1955 visitors were spending less and were staying for a shorter period of time.

Reports from the beaches showed that attendance at Virginia Beach, Buckroe Beach and at Colonial Beach was off this year. All three resorts attributed the decline to rainy week-ends, and complained bitterly not only of the hurricanes but also of the notice given the storms' coming by newspapers, radio and television.

Asks More Tree Planting

By Ed Dickerson
Soil Conservationist

Over the years the forest resources of Appomattox have contributed greatly to the economic growth of this county. They have provided raw materials for our industries, employment and payrolls for our workers, and insurance against disaster for our farmers, and products for all of us.

But more than that, the forests of Appomattox are tremendously important to all our citizens because forests provide the raw materials for countless products needed in modern living. They conserve water supplies, regulate stream flow, reduce floods and erosion. The life-giving role of water is linked to the forest in unmistakable terms.

As the Bible foretells, destruction of our natural resources will bring us punishment in the form of loss and misery. With proper management and protection, our forests can produce a continuous crop of timber and forage, safeguard the watersheds and provide recreation and wildlife. The forest can yield all these year after year for the welfare of our people and the security of our nation.

Now, as you know, there are thousands of acres of idle and abandoned land and many additional thousands of acres of badly cutover woodland in Appomattox. None of this land is producing anything of value at the present time, although it can be made productive if planted to trees. With an ever increasing population and an ever growing need for more forest products, it seems highly desirable that we do this as soon as possible.

With this in mind, we have a "Plant More Trees" committee, whose function it is to encourage a greatly increased reforestation program. We trust you will give this committee your full cooperation and that you will help to meet the challenge of tomorrow by planting more trees—today.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my nephew, Gerald M. Harvey, who passed away October 30, 1953.
Time speeds on, two years have passed,
Since death its gloom, its shadow cast,
Within our home, when all seemed bright,
God took from us our shining light.
As time and memory both shall last,
From our hearts you will never pass.
We mourn for you in silence,
No one can see us weep;
But many a silent tear is shed,
While others are asleep.
Aunt Ida.

ABBITT OFFERS MUSIC COPY

Representative Watkins M. Abbitt (D-Va.) announced today that he has available copies of the attractively printed music to the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag" which has been made available by action of the Congress.

The pledge set to music was sung for the first time on the floor of the House of Representatives on Flag Day, June 14, 1955, by the official Air Force choral group, the "Singing Sergeants" in special Flag Day ceremonies.

The music, which contains the revised flag pledge of the Congress, the words "under God" is a new addition to the pledge which was formally approved by Congress December 28, 1945. The addition of the words "under God" was made as a result of passage of the resolution sponsored by Representative Louis C. Rabaut, of Michigan.

The original words to the pledge were composed by Francis Bellamy, a minister, who first used the words at the dedication of the World's Fair Grounds in Chicago, on October 21, 1892.

The music folder was made House Document 225 of the Eighty-Fourth Congress by a special act. The copies are available in residents of the Fourth District upon request to Congressman Abbitt.

It got its lightning from the Thunderbird!

The '56 Ford borrowed the Thunderbird's beauty and its Y-8 "GO" to boot!

The long, low lines and beautiful new styling of the '56 Ford makes it a dead ringer for the fabulous Thunderbird. And in power, too, Ford is mighty like the Thunderbird.

Ford's new Thunderbird Y-8 engine, successor to the V-8, is 202-h.p.* strong. Basically, it is the same as the engine that won nationwide fame for alert performance in the Ford Thunderbird.

Another exciting advance in Ford for '56 is Lifeguard Design. It means added protection against the major causes of injuries in accidents. You're protected by a new deep-center steering wheel, new double-grip door latches, new optional seat belts and safety padding.

Let yourself go—for a thrilling test drive in the Thunderbird-inspired '56 Ford. Come in. We've got the keys!
